Cars and omnibuses will run to the grounds all the afternoon and evening, and the East Cleveland Railroad company generously devote half their earnings for the day to this churity.

THE HOLMES COUNTY DIFFICULTIES.—The Vallandighammers of Holmes county are making a little disturbance in their efforts to resist the enrollment law. The battalion, which arrived at the camp of the rioters, Wednesday, found them posted behind breastworks of loose stones, and about twenty shots WANTED .- 2,000 NEW OIL were fired from these fortifications, fortunately rimed too high to injure any of the troops, The soldiers returned the fire, and wounded several. The rest then scattered, and having no definite method of resistance to act upon, are skulking about the woods in small detachments.

A committee went from Millersburg to talk the rioters into obedience, and returned, aunouncing some hopes of success.

It is stated that a party of the Coshocton nalcontents are on their way to reinforce the olmes county men.

The commandant of the soldiers gave the loters until yesterday to decide upon what ourse they should adopt. In case they held ut longer he threatened them with severe reasures. Two of the wounded rebels, as well as four or five of the stragglers have fal-set raise of Discount. april:40 len into the hands of the authorities.

POLICE COURT.—The following cases ere put through yesterday: Anna Ward was bound over on a charge of obhery. She had invelgled some susceptible fellow into being gallant towards her, getting him to give her a breakfast at some groggery. When he was paying the bill, she snatched his money, $94, and ran away. She has made away with the funds. The young lady was bound over in the sum of $300 to stand her trial at the Common Pleas. Jeremiah Myers, (colored) for breaking into the shop of one David W. Clark, on Vine street, and stealing therefrom a pair of boots,

James Jones, was fined $1 and costs for getting drunk. John Haley, for snatching a one dollar bill from one Charles Henley, was fined $3 and was bound over to the Court of Common Pleas in the sum of $100.

William Burns and John King were examned on a charge of intoxication. Burns was fined $1 and costs, and King $2 and costs. Elizabeth Sweigart, vagrancy, sentenced to the House of Correction for seven days. Charlotte Wiggs, drunkenness, was sentenced to the House of Correction for seven

Charlotte Gill, intoxication, sent to the louse of Correction for seven days. Several important cases were continued to Mone Receures .- A squad of nineteen came in last night at ten o'clock from Troy township, Richland county. They ap seared to be as substantial and intelligent a set of men as could be brought together for any public purpose. They were in search of some one to take charge of them, and appeared to find some difficulty in the pursuit.

Now, why cannot the proper officer, whoever he is, have some one to meet these men at the Depots, and give them at least an offi- Erie wareho ial welcome? A little carelessness about $1.31. heir treatment at the commencement of their atriotic effort is apt to engender distrust brenghout the whole military service, and wery one knows to how many slights a priate soldier is obliged to submit in his term of service, and how apparently easy many of them might be avoided. If recruits cannot e received with a popular demonstration, and they cannot always be so received, let some judicious officer, with a strong wrist, go around and shake hands with the squade when they arrive, and welcome them into the ervice with some fervor. We do not know of any military rule which would authorize the above, but we do know that a great many heart burnings would be thereby done away with.

FAY MEN -A Washington correspondent writes that the rules of the Conscription will include all fat men, the reason of their exemption being " not only the plea of physical incompetency, but because it is proverbial, from Fallstaff down to Humphrey Marshall, that they have never been remarkable for daring deeds in the field."

This is pure nonsense. We believe if ten men, remarkable for bravery, were picked out of any rester of officers, at least five would be found inclining to corpulence. A moral argument can also be given: Those who are constantly exposing themselves, and underseing periods of hardships, naturally make the most of such present enjoyment as they can get hold of. Hard exercise, with poor living, followed by chronic fits of epicureanism onvention of the Western Unitarian Asso- will produce fat most effectually. All the experience of our soldiery proves this and the consequence is that the brave fellow who dashed forward to a battery, expecting nothing but doubt, and burdened with as little fiesh as a thorough-bred racer, will, when re-stored to his friends, round out into an incipient alderman. "Has not the Washington perrespondent been guilty of direct som, may, or scandal of big men?

EDITOR OF THE LEADER :- Now that the subject is fairly before the public, let me ask who controls the Kinaman St. Horse Railroad, and why are not some attentions shown the passengers on the cars and people who wish to ride? Daily are people, living on the side streets running into Kinsman, ferced to walk, because the driver and conductor are too interested in conversation with boys on the platforms of the cars. The attention of either of the personnges cannot be attracted until within speaking distance, and not always then. Verily, the dead head platform riders monopolize the business.

Again, why is it that the road and stock are in such miserable condition? Scarcely a day passes but passengers have to wait on the Hanover street switch while the driver berates his poor steads and regularithe listeners with " billingsgate."

The cars are dirty, yes filthy at times, windows broken, seate partly without bot-toms, and all in the face of a fine Sunday business. As one of your correspondents remarks, "Let the Grand Jury take hold of remarks, "Let the Grand Jury take hold of the Sunday Beer Garden nuisance," and the Street Railroad nuisance also if there is no other remedy, and let us have quiet Sundays and a better managed line of Railroad. I have ridden daily over the line since its first opening and am forced into making this complaint, for now the management is so poor that ladies are nearly excluded from the accommodation for fear of insult not only from the returning Park visitors, but the employees of the road. One great fault the employment of boys where there should be men.

I hope the subject may continue to be agito improve or discontinue the line.

No Danger in Pennsylvania -- Designs on Baltimore and Washington--Lee Ont-Generaled by Hooker.

[To the Cin cinnati Commercial.]

Washington, June 18. It is now considered quite certain that the recent rebel movement on Maryland induce Hooker, if possible, to throw his whole army into that State, thus nucovering Washington, so far as the Army of the forces to contend only with the troops around the Canital Of course the faint did not succeed. We learn from an officer LATEST FOREIGN INTELIGENCE. who reached here this forenoon from Harrisburg, that the rebel raiders have accomplished nothing so far, beyond the burning of the bridge at Scotland, and the capture of a few horse . Couch, with the forces sent to his aid, Respatches from Adm, Dupont. will have no great trouble in driving these vet so punish the main army of Lee that it will have no desire to attempt another grand raid. I am not at liberty even to hint at the plans for the circumvention of Lee. He is already so alarmed that he dare not move.

[To the Cincinnati Gazette.] Рипландерита, June 18. All the stories of interruption of trains on Harrisburg, and the like are pure sensational falsehoods. As matters look there simply indulged in a tremendous scare, by the side of which the siege of Cincinnati is otterly thrown in the shade. There is no sufficient proof that a single rebel infantry soldier has touched the soil of Pennsylvania, or that the small cavalry force which has thrown the entire North into such spasms had any other purpose than to steal horses and drays, and make a recounoisance with a view to Lee's future movements. The rebel movements, however, are involved in so much uncertainty, and the reports are so conflicting that it is exceding difficult yet to get any accurate idea of the situation. The Press has a special which says that deneral Ewell's force is concentrated at Winchester, while the rest of Lee's forces hold Hagerstown and such other points as will enable them to operate either against Harrisburg or Baltimore. The object of the rebels at the present time is merely a matter of conjecture; but an idea which is prevalent here seems to be reasonable snough. It is that the real point of attack s Baltimore, and that from Baltimore, should they succeed in capturing it, the next move would be on Washington. What seems to give color to this is that all the troops coming on for the defense of this State are ordered on immediately to Baltimore. The 7th New York were sent there, and other troops are pouring in from all paris.

FROM GENERAL GRANT-

Condition of Johnston's Army-Grant's Rear Well Protected --Pemberton Determined to Hold Out.

MEMPHIS, June 16. I have just returned from Grant's head-Canton and Meridian, but lacks cannon, which he cannot get, owing to the interuption in the railroad. No apprehension of that. Three heavy guns were crected on Thursday within a short distance of the enemy's stronghold, which continually The pickets at night are within forty yards of each other and occasionally converse. The courch there only being spared, The mortars and heavy guns play over Though the rebel troops made several the doomed city, but the rebels make no reply. Their only hope is that Johnston or Jeff, Davis, who is said to be coming, will raise the siege. Their food is reduced to bread made of peas and meal ground together, with an occasional piece of beef. The caves in the ground excavated by Pemberion as a refuge from the burning houses, have been considerably torn up by our shells, the majority going beyond Pemberion says he will not surrender unless the officers of his command petition for it. They have called him a coward and traitor, and he means to give them no further occasion for misrepresentation everything indicates the capture of Vicks- er Parrots and ninety-two-pounders burg whenever he gives the word to go and take it. Pemberton threatens to hold out until the last mule, horse and dog has been eaten, but he need not wait for that as his lines must give way before that time, and it is evident that he is not building new ones. He can plant no new guns within range, nor use those of the main works, as four rifle-picts are within 100 yards, and in some places less than 50 feet. Vicksburg must fall when General Grant orders it, but he may wait a few days to save his HEADQUARRIERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, June 18, 1863. A conflict transmired vesterday between detachment of our cavalry and General Fitz Hugh Lee's brigade, lasting until night. Our forces pushed the rebels a distance of five miles. Night then coming on, and not knowing the enemy's strength and the records of interruption of trains in the vicinity, the ground was cleared of the dead, wounded and prisoners, and a taking of Harrisburg, of a rebel advance strong position was taken by our forces o he battle field.

Our cavalry engaged in the fight of ednesday at Aldie was under command s every indication that Pennsylvania has of Kilpatrick. The rebel cavalry consist ed of a portion of Fitz Hugh Lee's brigads commanded by the rebel Colonel Rossau. The rebel force of cavalry and mounted infantry had come from the direction of Smicker's Gap and arrived at Aldie two ours before our force reached that point. The robels getting warning of Kilpat rick's approach, posted themselves in comnanding positions with their mounted harpshooters placed behind stone-walls Cilpatrick charged upon the rebeladvance and drove them furiously through the town, the rebels making a stand-on the ther side where they posted a battery o ur guns, on the road to Ashby's Gap, and their cavalry posted themselves along the cooded hills and stone-walls towards Snicker's Gap. our own and the rebel cavalry alternately, and after a fight of over three hours with carving success, the rebel force seemed to ing some advantage, when the regiment of Colonel Douty, which had been detached from the division for that purose, came up to the contest, and by a des erate charge against the rebel battery of our guns and a regiment of mounted Mis-issippi infantry, the tide was turned in ur favor, and the rebels were routed with acavy loss, all of the force who had not been killed being captured; but the vict-ory was dearly bought by the loss of the erave Colonel Douty, who fell mortally wounded. The rebel force was the advance of Gen eral Stuart's cavalry, who, it is alleged by prisoners, was advancing then through Aldie with the expectation of making a new raid. We captured over 100 prisoners and a battle flag belonging to the 5th Virginia

Sr. Louis, June 19 .- The Democrat's licksburg dispatch says: At two o'clock last Saturday morning our approaches from Sherman's corps were pushed through to the rebel rifle pits and to within twenty yards of one of their bas-tions. The enemy threw lighted shells over the parapets, on our approach, and received in return twenty hand-grenades, twenty of which exploded driving the rebels out. On Friday the enemy cut away the timber in the rear of their lines and opened on us with 11-inch shells and two or further occasion for misrepresentation or three siege guns.
